Dasic provides a full range of products to clean and disinfect modern open plant food production environments, including the renowned Dasic Lift Off Gel range. When the Dasic Lift Off Gel range was launched a decade ago, Dasic was one of the first companies to introduce stable and effective viscoelastic gel technology to the food production industry. The benefits of Dasic Lift Off Gel range include greatly reduced chemical costs, better micro results and reduced cleaning times. Reduced cleaning times mean lower labour costs and offer the potential for increased plant productivity - a real benefit in these difficult economic times.

Product Information

“Compared to all the other products we've ever used the Dasic system beats them all hands down. The hygiene team find it so easy to use and there's been a huge improvement in the visual look and smell of the abattoir since changing over. Everyone now comments how much brighter the area is and it's a big bonus when we show visitors around. They leave with such a good impression. I have no hesitation in recommending it to others.”

Simon Dixon, Primary Production Manager, Kepak (UK) Ltd
